Louisiana Coushatta Basket Makers Linda Langley, Denise E. Bates, 2021-04-21 Louisiana Coushatta Basket Makers brings together oral histories tribal records archival materials and archaeological evidence to explore the fascinating history of the Coushatta Tribe s famed basket weavers After settling at their present location near the town of Elton Louisiana in the 1880s the Coushatta Koasati tribe developed a basket industry that bolstered the local tribal economy and became the basis for generating tourism and political mobilization The baskets represented a material culture that distinguished the Coushattas as Indigenous people within an ethnically and racially diverse region Tribal leaders serving as diplomats also used baskets as strategic gifts as they built political and economic allegiances throughout the twentieth century thereby securing the Coushattas future Behind all these efforts were the basket makers themselves Although a few Coushatta men assisted in the production of baskets it was mostly women who put in the long hours to gather and process the materials then skillfully stitch them together to produce treasures of all shapes and sizes The art of basket making exists within a broader framework of Coushatta traditional teachings and educational practices that have persisted to the present As they tell the story of Coushatta basket makers Linda P Langley and Denise E Bates provide a better understanding of the tribe s culture and values The weavers own language of baskets shapes this narrative which depicts how the tribe survived repeated hardships as weavers responded on their own terms to market demands The work of Coushatta basket makers represents the perseverance of traditional knowledge in the form of unique and carefully crafted fine art that continues to garner greater recognition and appreciation with every successive generation
