

THE FORMAL REPORT

Formal reports are written for two of the laboratory experiments specified in the syllabus. Perform the experiments and complete the report requirements for that experiment given in the laboratory manual. The report must be typed. It must be neat and coherent.

Organize the report well and write with correct grammar in a clear, concise, easily understood style. Communicate clearly and efficiently to an audience that is assumed to be unfamiliar with this particular lab course. Assume the reader is a fellow engineering student who can follow a fairly sophisticated technical discussion, but is unfamiliar with the systems and equipment being studied. Inform the reader about the specifics of the experiment and the principles behind it. The lab manual may be referenced when appropriate. Under no circumstances should any material be used without its origin being specified.

To the extent possible, the formal report should simulate (in style, tone, and structure) the Sample Formal Report shown in the following pages. An outline of the report's structure, which is fairly standard, is given below. Lower case items are not headings. Headings are in capital letters. Lowered items are not headings either, but are simply descriptive labels for subsections of the report. The Introduction, Background/Theory, Methods, Results, and Discussion sections make up the main body of the report.
