Action research is a popular method for individual educators to examine their practices and grow in their profession. In this how-to guide, readers will learn how Whole Faculty Study Groups (WFSGs) use action research to involve an entire school in advancing staff learning and school performance. Additionally, readers will learn how the WFSG system compares with other approaches to action research. The schoolwide action research process can be applied in a wide variety of school reform efforts. Study groups can move from discussion to action. Principals and district leaders can support schoolwide action research.
