Introduction

An African proverb says, "A village is needed to raise a child." This statement provides an affirmation of a common belief that a lot of people thrive and survive in different communal environments (societies, villages, and families). It is in these circles in which they relate to the feeling of mental, social, spiritual, and emotional support. Therefore, it becomes quite natural to think that among our most important responsibilities as human beings should be to take care and offer support to others. As we provide this support, it is also important that we keep the best interest of other people in mind. In other words, we should also extend our grace whenever possible as we introduce biases as little as possible.

Why Study Anthropology

The field of anthropology is essential to our society in general. From the very first time man walked on earth, there were a lot of challenges to their survival. He has developed different habits which allowed him to endure a lot of challenges and hardships. He has created places for shelters, protecting him from different elements. He also discovered the plants that were good for eating, and the ones that are deemed dangerous. He has also developed different ways on how to take advantage of the rich resources naturally offered by our planet. He has also created rituals and traditions to celebrate victories, good fortune and relationships. All of these experiences and knowledge were passed from one generation to another, guaranteeing survival, while reducing the burden of the succeeding generations. Anthropology refers to the science of studying all these things.

Organization Staffing and Work Adjustment Aharon Tziner, 1990-09-25 This volume explores the concepts themes methods and procedures of organization staffing As Tziner notes at the outset although organizations usually attempt to predict the likely future performance of each applicant in terms of productivity rarely do they consider the likelihood of the applicants finding gratification in their work related needs and aspirations running the risk that extremely talented staff may eventually abandon the organization because of a lack of personal fulfillment Tziner offers a functional and integrated conceptual framework that will enable organizations to maximize the probability that staffing decisions will result in optimal work adjustment and the enhancement of organizational productivity Papers on Language Testing John A.
