QUICK GUIDE - CODING CHEAT SHEET

Important Notes:

- The "Infusion" service is the unit that represents the primary infusion for the intravenous, parenteral, or diagnostic service provided for the patient and is reported separately from all other units of the service done.
- If an infusion or injection is a subsequent or concurrent infusion, report ICD-10 the full each service within that group of services. Then a subsequent or concurrent code from the appropriate section should be reported.
- The time of the service should be based only upon the administration time for the infusion. Service beginning to and concluding the infusion have been included in the infusion service code and not separately reported. This includes starting the IV and monitoring the patient post-infusion.
