

Informal Tax Guide

SOL

Special Use Valuation

Special Use Valuation (SUV) is a tax election that allows a taxpayer to value certain real property for estate tax purposes based on its use as a farm, timberland, or other agricultural or recreational property. The value is determined based on the property's fair market value as if it were sold to a willing buyer for its special use, rather than its highest and best use. This can result in a significant reduction in the estate tax liability. The election is made on the estate tax return and is subject to certain requirements, including that the property must be used for the special use for a specified period of time before the decedent's death.
