Women and Climate Change in Bangladesh Margaret Alston,2015-02-11 Bangladesh is by no means a high emitter of carbon but it is nevertheless one of the countries most critically affected There is a significant risk of damage to lives and livelihoods due to climate change in the form of cyclones flooding and storm surges and slow onset impacts such as droughts sea level rises and river basin erosion Moreover Bangladeshis are especially vulnerable as a high proportion of people live in extreme poverty This book assesses the impact of climate change in Bangladesh and presents the findings of a three year in depth study undertaken at village level in different districts of the country It examines national policies contrasting them with what is actually happening at village level It outlines the impact of climate change on livelihood strategies and health and focuses particularly on the impact on gender relations showing that although women have a significant role to play in helping communities cope with the effects of climate change cultural customs and practices often work against this The book argues for and puts forward policy proposals for recognising women s active contribution and supporting gender equality as a critical strategy in global adaptation to climate challenges

Suid-Afrikaanse Hofverslae ,2015 Border Jumping and Migration Control in Southern Africa Francis Musoni,2020-04-07 With the end of apartheid rule in South Africa and the ongoing economic crisis in Zimbabwe the border between these Southern African countries has become one of the busiest inland ports of entry in the world As border crossers wait for clearance crime violence and illegal entries have become rampant Francis Musoni observes that border jumping has become a way of life for many of those who live on both sides of the Limpopo River and he explores the reasons for this including searches for better paying jobs and access to food and clothing at affordable prices Musoni sets these actions into a framework of illegality He considers how countries have failed to secure their borders why passports are denied to travelers and how border jumping has become a phenomenon with a long history especially in Africa Musoni emphasizes cross border travelers active participation in the making of this history and how clandestine mobility has presented opportunity and creative possibilities for those who are willing to take the risk

Tabloid Journalism in Africa Brian Chama, 2017-04-12 This book provides a timely and important summary of tabloid journalism in Africa which clearly shows how tabloids in the African context play a unique role in the democratization process. Prior to this book very little was known about how tabloid journalists operate in Africa. The book first explores the global practice of journalism and then focuses on tabloid journalism finally situating the discussion within the African context. As well as concentrating on how tabloid journalism can be seen as part of the broader neo liberal thinking in Africa in which democracy and freedom of expression is promoted it also looks at how tabloid journalism practice has been met with resistance from the alliance of forces Chama draws on examples from across the continent looking at success stories and struggles within the sometime infotainment genre. Tabloid Journalism in Africa concludes that even though challenges exist there is a strong case to suggest that the practice of tabloid journalism is being readily accepted by many people as part of the unique voices of democracy even those which might be shocking yet true.

Agriculture, Autonomous Development, and Prospects for Industrialization in Africa Emmanuel Ndhlovu, 2025-03-06 The book investigates the intersection of agriculture and development in Africa and how it impacts rural industrialisation prospects. It provides a comprehensive view of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities and the agricultural sector's potential as the source for continental development and industrialisation prospects. Significant research has been done on African development with a focus placed on the problematic role played by slavery colonialism and later by incompetent African leaders who failed to steer development of the type that delivers a progressive sustained and sustainable transformation of lives and societies. There is limited focus on the possibility of agriculture being the potential basis of African development and the chance for industrialisation. This is a matter of concern considering the dominance of agriculture as a livelihood and income source for many people on the continent. In contributing to the debate on development in Africa this book aims to show how agriculture can serve as the basis for African development and industrialisation. This will be achieved by i providing a detailed historical description of the position of agriculture in African socio economic activities ii outlining the trajectory of African development with a focus on agriculture innovation and mechanisation iii identifying challenges to the development of African agriculture iv exploring the opportunities for agricultural development in Africa and v providing practical and policy recommendations to improve African agriculture and make it the engine for development and industrialisation. Utilising a multidisciplinary approach which combines political economy social policy financial inclusion and empowerment approaches the book also shows how engagement of youth and women digitalisation and the provision of support by public and private actors can jump start agriculture as the engine of African development and industrialisation. Taken together with this conscious effort to promote a multi disciplinary discussion the book is valuable reading for students policymakers and activists interested in emerging new directions in African development thinking and research.

Why We Kill Karl Kemp, 2024-03-02 Why do so many South Africans prefer taking the law into their own hands to relying on the police? Why are those who do so often cheered or sympathised with Of the unprecedented 27 000 recorded murders in South Africa in 2022 at least 1 894 or 7 per cent were attributed to mob justice and vigilantism more than double the number from five years before In the first nine months of 2023 a further 1 472 mob justice deaths had already been registered Mob justice is nothing new but in recent years it has taken on an undeniably desperate furious edge From the breathtakingly violent Zandspruit massacre in May 2021 to the killings during the July unrest two months later to the march of Operation Dudula across the nation in 2022 vigilantism and the condoning of it has never before captured the zeitgeist of South Africa so sharply What has changed in the past few years and what does it augur for the future Following three recent cases of mob justice from the hellish metropolitan townships of Gauteng to the far flung bushveld of northern Limpopo and drawing on extensive research and interviews Why We Kill explores the roots realities and consequences of South Africa s current crisis of vigilantism
