The theme discusses water's importance to energy generation, the environment, food, and agriculture. It begins with an analysis of the interrelations between water and the environment. Consideration is given to the relationship between water and human health, water's dynamic role in the food production process, ecosystem character, water quality and environment, climate change, and water resources. Water resources for agricultural and food production, water balance in agriculture, areas, water contamination from rural production systems, and water interactions with human development, economic development, and cultural development are considered. These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences: University and College students, Educators, Professional practitioners, Research personnel and Policy analysts, Managers and Decision makers, and NGOs. Environment Information Access, 1972
