Interview Questions For Teachers In Cdcr:

Prison Vocational Education and Policy in the United States Andrew J Dick, William Rich, Tony Waters, 2016-08-05

This book explores California's prison system in the context of vocational education reform. For prisons in the early twenty-first century, ideologies of evidence-based management meant that reform efforts to change the purpose of prisons from punishment to rehabilitation through vocational education required evidence to justify policy prescriptions. Yet who determines what constitutes evidence? In political environments, solutions are typically pre-conceived, which means that the nature of the evidence collected is also preconceived. As a result, key assumptions about outcomes are often wished away to show improvement and be accountable. Through a detailed analysis interspersed with stories from the author's experiences behind the wall among California's prison population, the authors challenge the nature of evidence-based research as used in the prison environment. In the process, they describe the thorny problems facing reformers.

Publics in Action Christopher Kutz, C. William Maxeiner, Distinguished Professor Law and by Courtesy Philosophy and Political Science, 2025-08-27

In Publics in Action, Christopher Kutz looks at how people should and do come together to create their shared institutions and the lessons we can learn from one another. He argues that a healthy dynamic public takes itself seriously as a subject of action, not just the passive beneficiary of a state institution. Kutz builds the book around an extended metaphor: we should understand ourselves as a public that improvises, listening to each other as we riff off shared standards and so creating something new, responsive to the scene and the moment.
