

A woman with dark hair, wearing a dark lab coat, is focused on inspecting a green printed circuit board (PCB) under a microscope. She is holding the board with both hands. The microscope is white and black, and she is looking through the eyepiece. In the background, there is a large magnifying lamp and a blue workbench with various tools and components. The text "Manual Visual Inspection" is overlaid in the center of the image in a large, bold, white font with a black outline.
