

1. Minerals and Mineral Resources
2. Mineral Exploration and Mining
3. Mining Regulations and Other Mechanisms

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After reading this chapter, you should be able to:

1. identify the different types of minerals and their uses;
2. explain the different types of mineral resources and their distribution;
3. describe the different types of mineral exploration and mining methods;
4. explain the different types of mining regulations and other mechanisms.

Minerals are the raw materials that are used in the production of goods and services. They are the building blocks of the economy. Minerals are found in the earth's crust and are extracted from the ground. The extraction of minerals is called mining. Mining is a complex process that involves a number of steps, from exploration to extraction. This chapter will discuss the different types of minerals and their uses, the different types of mineral resources and their distribution, the different types of mineral exploration and mining methods, and the different types of mining regulations and other mechanisms.
