This volume explores how service learning can advance access and success by bridging institutional and community capacity It includes 12 chapters on leveraging partnerships building institutional capacity and studying the relationship between service learning pedagogy and student success especially in teacher preparation programs      Enhancing Curricula with Service Learning Models Valarmathi, Sharon, Kareem, Jacqueline, Tantia, Veerta, Babu, Kishore Selva, Lucas, Patrick Jude, 2024-05-20
In today s digital age technological advancements permeate every sector especially higher education However higher education must go beyond merely integrating AI into the curriculum Additionally it needs to prioritize educating students about societal issues Integrating service learning into higher education curriculums however is a significant challenge facing schools today There is a need for comprehensive research on its effectiveness and guidance on institutionalizing it effectively This hampers its potential to foster civic engagement and social responsibility among students With clear strategies and best practices institutions can implement service learning programs that benefit all stakeholders Enhancing Curricula with Service Learning Models provides a comprehensive blend of theoretical frameworks practical experimentation and real world examples to guide educators administrators and policymakers in fostering profound student engagement It emphasizes the role of emerging educational paradigms like service learning in instilling a sense of civic duty and purpose in students By enriching the educational dialogue with an emphasis on the pivotal role of student engagement in creating transformative and purposeful learning experiences this book empowers educators and institutions to create impactful and sustainable programs      Volunteers in Community Service Guion Griffis Johnson, 1967      Intercultural

Communication and International Students Anastassia Zabrodskaia ,Jiayi Wang,2025-12-17 With internationalization high on the agenda of education providers worldwide the complex relationship between intercultural communication and the international student phenomenon deserves close study Being an international student is a great opportunity to be exposed to a new language and culture and to develop intercultural communication skills Traditionally the phrase international students refers to those who undertake all or part of their education in a country other than their own For present purposes though we adopt a broad definition of the phrase to include transnational education TNE students who are often regarded as international students by their awarding institutions The number of international students pursuing tertiary education reached 6.3 million in 2020 up from 2 million in 2000 and this number continues to grow UNESCO Institute of Statistics 2023 The recent decade has also seen a tremendous expansion of TNE especially during the COVID-19 pandemic both in terms of size and scale TNE is the delivery of education in a country other than the one in which the degree granting institution is based TNE takes many diverse forms including dual degrees joint institutes and international branch campuses to name but a few In many cases students can get a foreign degree without ever leaving their home country or region Research on international students is often scattered across different disciplines including communication education psychology and language and linguistics The field of intercultural communication a term often used interchangeably with cross-cultural communication investigates how people from different cultural backgrounds communicate The combination of intercultural communication and international students is a broad and fascinating topic of research Extant research on the topic has mainly focused on the following areas international students' perceptions of intercultural communication the difficulties faced by international students and the correlations between different variables e.g. intercultural communication competence and effectiveness intergroup anxiety intercultural sensitivity attitude towards other cultures meta-stereotypes sensation seeking ethnocentrism empathy mindfulness and motivation to engage in intercultural communication These studies have offered valuable insights into the predictors of intercultural communication competence and effectiveness and the pathways for developing this competence and effectiveness However intercultural communication and international students is a complex topic that requires a multifaceted approach that transcends disciplinary boundaries Research on the topic is lagging behind the growth of student numbers and there are many gaps and underexplored areas For example TNE students have rarely been studied from an intercultural communication perspective and international students' perceptions of intercultural communication are much less explored than those of faculty and home students Additionally while academic advising has been found to be vital to international student success academic advisers have reported a lack of institutional training on how to deal with international students The actual intercultural interactions of and with international students have rarely been studied in detail Against this background this Research Topic seeks to create interdisciplinary dialogue and cooperation exploring the gaps and underexamined areas of intercultural communication and international students Themes to be addressed include but are not limited to the following language and communication intercultural communication competence and effectiveness intercultural interaction international student experience transnational education TNE internationalization
