Chadwick,Christopher Fleming,2012-03-15 Historically much harm has been done by well meaning coastal engineering attempts which seemed like good ideas on paper but which failed to allow for practical issues For this reason it is vital that theories and models are well grounded in practice This second edition brings the models and examples of practice up to date It has expanded coverage of tsunamis and generating energy from waves to focus both on the great dangers and the great opportunities that the ocean presents to the coastal zone With an emphasis on practice and detailed modelling this is a thorough introduction to all aspects of coastal processes morphology and design of coastal defences It describes numerous case studies to illustrate the successful application of mathematical modelling to real world practice A must have book for engineering students looking to specialize in coastal engineering and management Mass Spectrometry in the

Biological Sciences: A Tutorial M.L Gross,2012-12-06 The developments in mass spectrometry over the past fifteen years have been impressive in their implications in bioanalytical chemistry The achievements begin with the inventions of Cf 252 Plasma Desorption Mass Spectrometry by Macfarlane and Fourier Transform Mass Spectrometry by Comisarow and Marshall in the mid 1970s The former showed the feasibility of producing large gas phase ions from large biomolecules whereas the latter enhanced the capabilities for ion trapping especially in analytical mass spectrometry A major achievement was the development by Barber of Fast Atom Bombardment FAB mass spectrometry an advance that heralded a new era in biological mass spectrometry Contemporary and routine instruments such as magnetic sectors and quadrupoles were rapidly adapted to FAB and nearly the entire universe of small molecules became amenable to study by mass spectrometry The introduction of FAB also paved the way for improvement of instrument capability For example the upper mass limit of magnet sector mass spectrometers was increased by nearly an order of magnitude by the instrument manufacturers Furthermore the technique of tandem mass spectrometry MS MS was given new meaning because important structural information for biomolecules could now be produced for ions introduced by FAB into the tandem instrument The evolution of MS MS continues today with the development of ion traps time of flight and sector instruments equipped with array detection Poor's Manual of
