

What is the FOREST STEWARDSHIP COUNCIL

and why does it matter?

The Forest Stewardship Council sets a number of green standards for companies to follow. Whether it's protecting existing forests or encouraging best environmental practices for the future, the FSC is one of the leading bodies for responsible business practice certification. Companies can earn certifications for either Forest Management or Chain-of-Custody, depending on their specific actions.

HERE ARE SOME REASONS TO WORK WITH AN FSC CERTIFIED COMPANY:

CREATE A STRONGER SUPPLY CHAIN

A certified entity can be part of a network of businesses that have a positive environmental impact.

WIDEN YOUR IMPACT

Partnering with an FSC certified business gives you a platform to promote responsible business, both within the business network and in the surrounding community.

ENACT STRONG MANAGEMENT

Part of the FSC mission requires putting an updated management plan in place, as well as appropriate monitoring. This can be both an environmental boon and an organizational one as well, leading to a better structure with regular oversight.

GROW YOUR BUSINESS

FSC-certified wood is the most specified green building product*, surpassing even EnergyStar. Every day, the US Green Building Council's LEED program is certifying 1.6 million square feet of building space. Joining the FSC standard can help you be a part of that growth.
