LEARN EVOLUTION VIRTUAL LAB

ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS AS YOU COMPLETE EACH PART OF THE VIRTUAL LAB

Answer the following questions as you complete each part of the virtual lab.

Part 1: Introduction

1. As you begin the virtual lab, you will see a virtual world with eight islands and a population of 1000. What happens when you introduce a new species? How does the population change over time?

Answer: When I first go to the island, the population is 1000. When I introduce a new species, the population drops to 500. This happens because the new species is competing with the existing species for resources. The population of the existing species decreases, and the population of the new species increases.

2. An adaptation is a trait that helps an organism survive in its environment. Give an example of an adaptation that helps an organism survive in its environment.

Answer: One example of an adaptation is camouflage. Camouflage helps an organism hide from its predators. Another example is the ability to hibernate. Hibernation helps an organism survive the winter months when food is scarce.

3. Explain why the population of the virtual world is not growing. What factors are limiting the population?

Answer: The population is not growing because there is a limited amount of resources. The population is limited by the amount of food and space available.

4. Explain why the population of the virtual world is not growing. What factors are limiting the population?

Answer: The population is not growing because there is a limited amount of resources. The population is limited by the amount of food and space available.

5. How does the population of the virtual world change over time?

Answer: The population of the virtual world changes over time as the species adapt to their environment. The population of the existing species decreases, and the population of the new species increases.
