Seven psalms became known as the Penitential Psalms around the time of Augustine of Hippo. These psalms, Psalms 6, 32, 38, 51, 102, 130, and 143, took on great prominence in the medieval period in culture, literature, doctrine, liturgy, and personal piety. After the Reformation, they slowly receded from centuries-long ubiquity, having been all but eclipsed by other texts and concerns. As this rise and fall is explored, well-known figures from the past, including Saint Augustine, Dame Eleanor Hull, Martin Luther, John Donne, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, and C. H. Spurgeon, will be encountered. Less well-known monks, mystics, and martyrs who celebrated these psalms will also lend their voices. Seven contributors chart this narrative across nine chapters. Four other contributors then celebrate the enduring legacy of these psalms in music, worship, preaching, and poetry.

Psalms (Vol. 1) Charles H. Spurgeon, 1993-11-19. For hundreds of years, Christendom has been blessed with Bible commentaries written by great men of God, highly respected for their godly walk and their insight into spiritual truth. The Crossway Classic Commentaries present the very best work on individual Bible books, carefully adapted for maximum understanding and usefulness for today's believers. This book and its companion volume share the practical encouragement from a favorite Bible book. Charles H. Spurgeon spent twenty years compiling his seven-volume exposition of Psalms, which Crossway has carefully edited for the modern reader. In the words of Spurgeon in his Preface: "None but the Holy Spirit can give a man the key to the Treasury of David, and even he gives it rather to experience than to study. Happy he who for himself knows the secret of the Psalms. In these busy days, it would be greatly to the spiritual profit of Christians if they were more familiar with the Book of Psalms, in which they would find a complete armory for life's battles and a perfect supply for life's needs." Modern Psalms Samuel Field, 2024-09-15. One book a year that's what I've done about half a decade. Not this time, not this book. It's not written for now, for a moment. It's written about and for Him, The Eternal One. While I have imperfectly poured my heart, mind, and soul into these words onto these pages, I hope you see Who I have seen, I hope you hear Who I have heard, I hope you can see past my eyes to Who is worth more than can ever be acquired. To The Source, all of life and freedom. To the One who waits for each heart's turnings towards As the Lord's prayer starts with an acknowledgment of who God is, so the first two chapters focus on who God is, His Love, and His character. Then on who we are and who we are joined to. The Christ. Chapters three and four move to religion and relationship. God's religion is inherently for relationship and is the only one I want. I choose to focus on what He wants and not in other directions. So I write to this clarity to the eyes on Me that He desires. Let God's religion be my only religion; it's a lighter load. Much effort has been made in sharing from my journey to ensure these words are honest and insightful, essentially my best for the highest. I hope what you hear when you read them resonates to your journey. The Bookseller, 1874      The Praises of Israel William Theophilus Davison, 1893
