

Collisions and Conservation of Momentum

Visit the website <http://phet.colorado.edu/en/simulation/collision-lab> & complete the following:

- In the green box on the right side of the screen, select the following settings: 1 dimension, velocity vectors ON, momentum vectors ON, reflecting borders ON, momenta diagram ON, elasticity 0%. Look at the red and green balls on the screen and the vectors that represent their motion.
  - Which ball has the greater velocity?
  - Which has the greater momentum?
- Explain why the green ball has more momentum but less velocity than the red ball (HINT: what is the definition of momentum?).
- Push "play" and let the balls collide. After they collide and you see the vectors change, click "pause". Click "rewind" and watch the momenta box during the collision. Watch it more than once if needed by using "play", "rewind", and "pause". Zoom in on the vectors in the momenta box with the control on the right of the box to make it easier to see if necessary.
  - What happens to the momentum of the red ball after the collision?
  - What about the green ball?
  - What about the total momentum of both the red and green ball?
- Change the mass of the red ball to match that of the green ball.
  - Which ball has greater momentum now?
  - How has the total momentum changed?
  - Predict what will happen to the motion of the balls after they collide.
- Watch the simulation, and then pause it once the vectors have changed.
  - What happens to the momentum of the red ball after the collision?
  - What about the green ball?
