

Though we might think of film as an essentially visual experience, we really cannot afford to underestimate the importance of film sound. A meaningful sound track is often as complicated as the image on the screen, and is ultimately just as much the responsibility of the director. The entire sound track consists of three essential ingredients: the human voice, sound effects and music. These three tracks must be mixed and balanced so as to produce the necessary emphases which in turn create desired effects.

- A. The director should plan the sound track at an early stage in filming.
- B. It would be wrong to overlook the contribution of sound ...
- C. The music industry can have a beneficial effect on sound in film
- D. It is important for those working on the sound in film to have sole responsibility for it
