

BUILDING MOMENTUM BEHIND MENTORING TO DRIVE BUSINESS GROWTH

FIVE RECOMMENDATIONS BY THE ABM

MAKE MENTORING MAINSTREAM

Successful businesses have mentors. Mentoring should be acknowledged as a valuable, necessary and indispensable function of daily business life, driving positive outcomes for businesses and growth.

Awareness needs to be made of the impact of business mentoring by demonstrating these positive outcomes to leaders and decision makers who can embrace mentoring within their own businesses.

COLLABORATE TO DEMONSTRATE VALUE

The business support community has a powerful and influential voice, particularly where businesses are struggling, or recognise their need for guidance, but are unsure of what's available.

Working together, we can speak with a shared voice that promotes the value of mentoring and guides ambitious business owners and leaders to seek professional support.

PROVIDE PARTNERSHIP PROGRAMMES

Successful business support partnerships are already delivering programmes with significant impact.

Strengthening these partnerships will ensure these initiatives continue and evolve, delivering accessible mentoring opportunities and further growing the mentor community.

Funded or subsidised mentoring opportunities can be a powerful incentive for first-time mentees.

RAISE THE STANDARD

Voluntary and paid for mentoring should meet an acceptable industry standard. By providing a recognised professional framework for formal programmes and individual professional business mentors, we will elevate sector capabilities and drive excellence across the profession.

Mentor skills, experience qualifications and commitments to continual professional development should be encouraged and transparent.

ADDRESS TOMORROW'S NEEDS, TODAY

As business and economic growth patterns evolve, so will the business mentoring landscape.

Researching the impact of business mentoring on the success and health of businesses will ensure that mentoring advances to reflect the needs of tomorrow's business, economic climate and UK long-term growth ambitions as well as the opportunities and challenges presented by advancing technologies and other developments.
