Geography Dynamic Planet 2paper:

Dynamic Planet Paul Tregoning, Chris Rizos, 2008-01-15 IAG Symposium Cairns Australia 22-26 August 2005 The Geographical Sciences During 1986—2015 Shuying Leng, Xizhang Gao, Tao Pei, Guoyou Zhang, Liangfu Chen, Xi Chen, Canfei He, Daming He, Xiaoyan Li, Chunye Lin, Hongyan Liu, Weidong Liu, Yihe Lü, Shilong Piao, Qiuhong Tang, Fulu Tao, Lide Tian, Xiaohua Tong, Cunde Xiao, Desheng Xue, Linsheng Yang, Linwang Yuan, Yuanming Zheng, Huiyi Zhu, Liping Zhu, 2016-07-28 In four chapters and an introduction this book systematically helps readers understand the development of the Geographical Sciences both in China and in the world during the past 30 years. Through data analysis of methodologies including CiteSpace, TDA, qualitative analysis, questionnaires, data mining, and mathematical statistics, the book explains the evolution of research topics and their driving factors in the Geographical Sciences and its four branches: namely Physical Geography, Human Geography, Geographical Information Science, and Environmental Geography. It also identifies the role of the Geographical Sciences in the analysis of strategic issues such as global change and terrestrial ecosystems, terrestrial water cycle and water resources, land change, global cryosphere, evolution and land surface processes on the Tibetan Plateau, economic globalization and local responses, regional sustainable development, remote sensing, modelling and parameter inversion, spatial analysis and simulation, and tempo-spatial processes and modelling of environmental pollutants. It then discusses research development and inadequacy of Chinese Geographical Sciences in the above-mentioned topics as well as in the fields including Geomorphology and Quaternary environmental change, Ecohydrology, ecosystem services, the urbanization process and mechanism, medical and health geography, international rivers and transboundary environment and resources, detection and attribution of changes in land surface sensitive components, and uncertainty of spatial information and spatial analysis. It shows that the NSFC has driven the development in all these topics and fields. In addition, the book summarises trends of the Geographical Sciences in China and the research level in major countries of the world through an overview of geographical education in colleges and universities, the analysis of publications, citations, and author networks of SCI, SSCI, and CSCD indexed articles, and the description of Sino-US, Sino-UK, and Sino-German cooperation. This book serves as an important reference to anyone interested in geographical sciences and related fields.

The Confines of Territory John Agnew, 2020-12-17 The word territory has taken on renewed significance in a world where its close association with state sovereignty has made a serious comeback, invoked alike by proponents of Brexit in the UK, Making America Great Again in the USA, and myriad populists from India to Brazil, by way of Italy and Hungary. The word has had a contentious history in social science and political theory. In its first seven years, the journal Territory Politics Governance has published numerous articles examining the ways in which territory figures into contemporary political debates and its limits as a concept when applied to a world in which sovereignty never has simply pooled up within self-evidently distinctive blocs of space named as territories. Among other things, the limits of territory are apparent in terms of the history of a global capitalism that always bursts beyond established boundaries the fact that some states are much more powerful and exercise much more spatial reach than do others and that the political uses of territory in its current usage date back predominantly to seventeenth century Europe rather than being historically transcendental or worldwide The articles in this book are selected from Territory Politics Governance to survey many of the dilemmas and questions that haunt the concept of territory even as its current efflorescence in political discourse ignores them Handbook of Cities and the Environment Kevin Archer, Kris Bezdecny, 2016-12-30 With an ever growing majority of the world's human population living in city spaces the relationship between cities and nature will be one of the key environmental issues of the 21st Century This book brings together a diverse set of authors to explore the various aspects of this relationship both theoretically and empirically Rather than considering cities as wholly separate from nature a running theme throughout the book is that cities and city dwellers should be characterized as intrinsic in the creation of specifically urban generated socio natures Saving More Than Seeds Catherine Phillips, 2016-04-01 Saving More Than Seeds advances understandings of seed people relations with particular focus on seed saving The practice of reusing and exchanging seeds provides foundation for food production and allows humans and seed to adapt together in dynamic socionatural conditions But the practice and its practitioners are easily taken for granted even as they are threatened by neoliberalisation Combining original ethnographic research with investigation of an evolving corporate seed order this book reveals seed saving not only as it occurs in fields and gardens but also as it associates with genebanking genetic engineering intellectual property rights and agrifood regulations Drawing on diverse social sciences literatures Phillips illustrates ongoing practices of thinking feeling and acting with seeds raising questions about what seed people relations should accomplish and how different ways of relating might be pursued to change collective futures Geographic Measurement and Quantitative Analysis Robert Earickson, John M. Harlin, 1994 With a balance of human and physical examples coverage of computer programs for solving numerical problems and a practical focus on the working procedures of geographers this text is designed to instruct readers in the method that geographers apply Examples are included Mountain Ice and Water John F. Shroder, Gregory B Greenwood, 2016-11-18 Mountain Ice and Water Investigations of the Hydrologic Cycle in Alpine Environments is a new volume of papers reviewed and edited by John Shroder Emeritus Professor of Geography and Geology at the University of Nebraska at Omaha USA and Greg Greenwood Director of the Mountain Research Initiative from Bern Switzerland Chapters in this book were derived from research papers that were delivered at the Perth III Conference on Mountains of our Future Earth in Scotland in October 2015 The conference was established to help develop the knowledge necessary to respond effectively to the risks and opportunities of global environmental change and to support transformations toward global sustainability in the coming decades To this end the conference and book have investigated the future situation in mountains from three points of view 1 Dynamic Planet Observing explaining understanding and projecting Earth environmental and societal system trends drivers and processes and their interactions to anticipate global thresholds and risks 2 Global Sustainable Development Increasing knowledge for sustainable secure and fair stewardship of biodiversity food water health energy materials and other ecosystem services and 3 Transformations towards Sustainability Understanding transformation processes and options assessing how these relate to human values emerging technologies and social and economic development pathways and evaluating strategies for governing and managing the global environment across sectors and scales Derived from research papers delivered at the Perth III Conference on Mountains of our Future Earth in Scotland in October 2015 Helps develop the knowledge necessary for responding effectively in coming decades to the risks and opportunities of global environmental change and tactics for global sustainability Provides the research community working on global change in mountains with a broader framework established by the Future Earth initiative
