

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

September 21, 1998

Dr. Robert Moore
Office of Special Nutritionals
Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition
200 C Street, SW
Washington, DC 200204

Dear Dr. Moore:

We are writing to urge the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to withdraw the second paragraph of the proposed draft guidelines for Vitamin and Mineral Supplements and the document "A Risk Assessment Model for Establishing Upper Intake Levels for Vitamins" from the FDA's submission to the Codex Committee on Nutrition and Foods for Special Dietary Use (CCFSNDU).

These documents force the US to adopt the Codex proposals regarding upper safe limits of vitamins and minerals. These proposals clearly abrogate the rights of American consumers to make informed health care choices and the intent of Congress when it passed the Dietary Supplement Health and Education Act of 1994 (DSHEA).

Last year Congress prohibited the FDA from harmonizing its regulations for dietary supplements with EU countries. Congress believed the FDA's effort to "harmonize" its regulations rules with other countries would limit consumer access to a wide range of products, including high-potency vitamins and minerals. American consumers do not want the FDA regulating dietary supplements as drugs instead of foods. In Germany, the only nutritional supplements available to consumers are at pharmacies. Germans can't even touch a nutritional supplement without first having a pharmacist dispense it from behind the counter.

Congress also expressed a clear desire to increase consumer access to truthful information about dietary supplements in the DSHEA law. Any FDA action to weaken DSHEA violates the will of Congress, and most importantly, the will of the American people to have easy access to dietary supplements.

In conclusion, we urge the FDA not harmonize US dietary supplement laws with the European law and strike the second paragraph of your proposed draft guidelines for Vitamin and Mineral Supplements and the document "A Risk Assessment Model for Establishing Upper Intake Levels for Vitamins," from any and all FDA submissions to the CCFSNDU.

Sincerely,

Peter A. DeFazio
Member of Congress
