

The background of the cover is a complex, artistic representation of a human body. A blue silhouette of a person is visible on the right side, filled with various microscopic and cellular structures. The left side features large, vibrant orange and yellow circular patterns that resemble virus particles or cellular components. The overall color palette is dominated by blues, oranges, and yellows.

Human Diseases Mary L. Mulvihill, 1991 DNA Replication and Human Disease Melvin L.

DePamphilis,2006 At least 5 trillion cell divisions are required for a fertilized egg to develop into an adult human resulting in the production of more than 20 trillion meters of DNA And yet with only two exceptions the genome is replicated once and only once each time a cell divides How is this feat accomplished What happens when errors occur This book addresses these questions by presenting a thorough analysis of the molecular events that govern DNA replication in eukaryotic cells The association between genome replication and cell proliferation disease pathogenesis and the development of targeted therapeutics is also addressed At least 160 proteins are involved in replicating the human genome and at least 40 diseases are caused by aberrant DNA replication 35 by mutations in genes required for DNA replication or repair 7 by mutations generated during mitochondrial DNA replication and more than 40 by DNA viruses Consequently a growing number of therapeutic drugs are targeted to DNA replication proteins This authoritative volume provides a rich source of information for researchers physicians and teachers and will stimulate thinking about the relevance of DNA replication to human disease
