An Example of a Paperwork Answer That is Too Long

"Who's Your Inspiration?"

Original: 338 Words

The woman who inspires me to follow my passions and purpose in life each day is a former colleague and mentor of mine named Susie Smith. Susie and I worked side-by-side for months for a home care company. Approximately three years ago during one of our shifts together, she began to tell me that her house burnt down in an electrical fire just a few days prior to that shift, and that her and her seven children had been staying in a hotel for several nights. Susie always had a very optimistic mindset and a very positive and upbeat personality, however on this day she was exceptionally happier than I had ever seen her before. I was worried that she may be in shock due to this existential life crisis, but this was not the case. Susie proceeded to tell me how she wasn't going to have to worry about renovating her kitchen or purging her unused items, she was ecstatic to be getting a new house. From this experience she taught me one of the most valuable lessons in my life: our happiness is not completely dependent on the items we possess, or the circumstances present in our life, rather, it is about how we choose to show up in the world each day despite our obstacles and our challenges. Susie also taught me about how to achieve happiness from within. This happiness comes from developing self-worth and self-value from within so that we are mindful and present during each day and resilient when there are difficult circumstances that evidently come up in life. I truly owe the way I live my life each day to Susie for teaching me about how to value myself and my life through different self-care practices such as expressing gratitude, journaling, and by giving back to others. It is with this mindset that I can find the beauty in each day, within myself, and that I am able to teach others how to find this self-worth and abundance in life too.

Final: 120 Words

A coworker of mine, Susie Smith, lost her home and all belongings due to a fire and she and her seven children were displaced. Instead of seeing this as a tragedy as most people would, she saw it as a new beginning for her family. It was a meaningful lesson for me: happiness is not dependent on our possessions or our circumstances. Rather, it is about how we choose to show up in the world each day despite our obstacles and achieve happiness from within. She has inspired me to find joy in every day through journaling, expressing gratitude and giving back to organizations like Big Brothers Big Sisters. I hope to help others find abundance in their lives, too.
