Decolonising Digital Media and Indigenisation of Participatory Epistemologies Fulufhelo Oscar Makananise, Shumani Eric Madima, 2024-08-13 The book provides valuable insights on decolonising the digital media landscape and the indigenisation of participatory epistemologies to continue the legacies of indigenous languages in the global South It is one of its kind as it climaxes that the construction phase of self determining and redefining among the global South societies is an essential step towards decolonising the digital landscape and ensuring that indigenous voices and worldviews are equally infused represented and privileged in the process of higher level communication exchanging epistemic philosophies and knowledge expressions The book employs an interdisciplinary approach to engage in the use of digital media as a sphere for resistance and knowledge transformation against the persistent colonialism of power through dominant non indigenous languages and scientific epistemic systems It further advocates that decolonising digital media spaces through appreciating participatory epistemologies and their languages can help promote the inclusion and empowerment of indigenous communities It indicates that the decolonial process can also help to redress the historical and ongoing injustices that have disadvantaged many indigenous communities in the global South and contributed to their marginalisation This book will appeal to undergraduate and graduate students scholars and academics in communication media studies languages linguistics cultural studies and indigenous knowledge systems in higher education institutions It will be a valuable resource for those interested in epistemologies of the South decoloniality postcoloniality indigenisation participatory knowledge indigenous language legacies indigenous artificial intelligence and digital media in the Fourth Industrial Revolution Practical Advertising ,1909 Advertising and Press Annual of Africa ,1952 Promadata, Promotion, Marketing & Advertising Data ,1982 Includes index The Newspaper Press Directory ,1901
