Goes Soft Bracket 2:

On Farming Mason White, Maya Przybylski, 2010 On Farming reveals the interdependencies of our globalized world as today information energy labour and landscape among others can be farmed

Now Urbanism Jeffrey Hou, Benjamin Spencer, Thaisa Way, Ken Yocom, 2014-10-10 After more than a century of heroic urban visions urban dwellers today live in suburban subdivisions gated communities edge cities apartment towers and slums The contemporary cities we know are more often the embodiment of unexpected outcomes and unintended consequences rather than visionary planning As an alternative approach for rethinking and remaking today's cities and regions this book explores the intersections of critical inquiry and immediate substantive actions The contributions inside recognize the rich complexities of the present city not as barriers or obstacles but as grounds for uncovering opportunity and unleashing potential Now Urbanism asserts that the future city is already here It views city making as grounded in the imperfect messy yet rich reality of the existing city and the everyday purposeful agency of its dwellers Through a framework of situating grounding performing distributing instigating and enduring these contributions written by a multidisciplinary group of practitioners and scholars illustrate specificity context agency and networks of actors and actions in the re making of the contemporary city

Poetics of Liveliness Ada Smailbegović, 2021-10-29 Can poetry act as an aesthetic amplification device akin to a microscope through which we can sense minute or nearly imperceptible phenomena such as the folding of molecules into their three dimensional shapes the transformations that make up the life cycle of a silkworm or the vaporous movements that constitute the ever shifting edges of clouds We tend to think of these subjects as reserved for science but as Ada Smailbegović argues twentieth and twenty first century writers have intermingled scientific methodologies with poetic form to reveal unfolding processes of change Their works can be envisioned as laboratories within which the methodologies of experimentation natural historical description and taxonomic classification allow poetic language to register the rhythms and durations of material transformation Poetics of Liveliness moves across scales to explore the realms of molecules fibers tissues and clouds It investigates works such as Christian B k s insertion of a poetic text into the DNA code of living bacteria in order to generate a new poem in the shape of a protein molecule Jen Bervin's considerations of silk fibers and their use in biomedicine Gertrude Stein's examination of brain tissues in medical school and its subsequent influence on her literary taxonomies of character and Lisa Robertson's studies of nineteenth century meteorology and the soft architecture of clouds In their attempt to understand physical processes unfolding within lively material worlds Smailbegović contends these poets have developed a distinctive materialist poetics Structured as a poetic cosmology akin to Lucretius's On the Nature of Things which begins at the atomic level and expands out to the vastness of the universe Poetics of Liveliness provides an innovative and surprising vision of the relationship between science and poetry
