1. The first step in the accounting process is to identify the transactions that affect the business. This is done by recording the transactions in the journal. The journal is a record of all the business transactions in chronological order. The journal is then posted to the ledger. The ledger is a record of all the business transactions in alphabetical order. The ledger is then used to prepare the financial statements. The financial statements are the balance sheet, the income statement, and the statement of cash flows. The balance sheet shows the assets, liabilities, and equity of the business at a specific point in time. The income statement shows the revenues, expenses, and net income of the business over a period of time. The statement of cash flows shows the cash inflows and outflows of the business over a period of time.
