Answer Key

Imperialism	The policy of extending a country's power and influence over other nations or territories through colonization, military force, or economic control.
Protectorate	A territory that maintains its own government and local rulers, but whose foreign policy and defense are controlled by a more powerful nation.
Sphere of influence	A region where a foreign nation has exclusive rights to trade, invest, or exert political influence without directly governing the territory.

1. For what other purposes did European nations seek colonies?

European nations sought colonies to build naval bases for their military ships, to provide new places for their citizens to settle, and to gain national prestige by competing with other powers for the largest empire. Some Europeans also believed they had a duty to spread Christianity and Western culture to other parts of the world.

2. What is new imperialism?

New imperialism was the period from about 1870 to 1914 when European countries rapidly took direct control of colonies, especially in Africa and Asia. Unlike earlier protectorates which focused on coastal trading posts, Europeans now conquered and governed entire regions. This was driven by the need for raw materials and markets, and made possible by new technologies such as steamships, railroads, and modern weapons.

3. What is direct rule?

Direct rule was when European powers sent their own officials to govern colonies and make all decisions. Local people had little power in government, and Europeans imposed their own laws and systems. France commonly used this method.
