Climate Adaptation Investment and the Community Reinvestment Act Jesse M. Keenan, Elizabeth Mattiuzzi, 2019-06-17 Climate change is already causing disruption to regional economic activity. Low to moderate income populations are highly vulnerable to these impacts in part because they often have fewer resources to adapt. The stability and prosperity of local economies in the face of climate change depends on how well the public, private, and civic sectors can come together to respond to the shocks and stresses of climate change. Collaborative efforts to fund climate adaptation not only reduce the burden on highly vulnerable populations but they also offer the opportunity for co-benefits within a broader portfolio of community development ambitions. This report introduces the field of climate adaptation finance and explains its connection to the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) within the context of the disaster provisions guiding pre and post-disaster investments. In a demonstration of need, the report provides evidence of the spatial concentration of disaster declarations in areas with CRA-eligible populations. Existing innovative and hypothetical investments are highlighted within a broader context for stimulating greater pre-disaster planning and investment. Community development practitioners, investors, and policymakers will find this report useful for sparking new ideas about how to develop partnerships and funding streams for CRA-eligible activities in both eligible communities and areas within a federal disaster declaration that will reduce the vulnerability and increase the adaptive
