Science and Technology Teacher Education in the Anthropocene Miranda Rocksén, Elaosi Vhurumuku, Maria Svensson, Emmanuel Mushayikwa, Audrey Msimanga, 2022-05-17 This unique book compares anthropogenic challenges in science and technology teacher education between the northern and southern contexts of Sweden and South Africa respectively. Presenting the results of a three-year research collaboration between science and technology teacher education researchers from South Africa and Sweden, the book explores theoretical perspectives and pedagogical experiences in response to challenges in the Anthropocene. It discusses research-informed practice in teacher education to address sustainable development. Chapters in the book collectively investigate the influence of current environmental and societal changes on the education of teachers, answering the question of how science and technology teacher education can adjust to current changes in the world and prepare new teachers for work in their future profession. Touching on issues such as climate change, global warming, and pandemic diseases, the book uses a comparative approach and explores opportunities and possibilities for fulfilling the goals of science and technology education for sustainable development. The book offers recommendations and opportunities to implement sustainability issues and develop sustainable teaching strategies. It will be a key reading for researchers, academics, and postgraduate students in the fields of teacher education, science and technology education, sustainability education, and comparative education. Research Handbook on Classroom

Observation Sean Kelly, 2025-03-12 This comprehensive Research Handbook offers cutting-edge insights into classroom observation systems for teacher evaluation and professional development, with an emphasis on both applied and discovery-oriented inquiry. Curriculum Theory, Curriculum Theorising, and the Theoriser, 2020-12-29 Curriculum studies is at the core of the educational endeavour and informs what happens in every educational institution. As a result of its criticality or primacy, every educational practitioner appears to claim expertise in curriculum matters and what direction the field should take. In Africa, the curriculum practitioner has been given little or no space to theorise and orient the future of the field. Instead, European and American curriculum theorists have been allowed to exert a marked influence on the nature and direction of African theoretical and philosophical underpinnings. This situation raises fundamental questions about the future of education in Africa, and this volume explores and answers these questions relating to curriculum theory, theorising, and the theoriser by breaking traditions and experimenting on alternative approaches and pathways. Contributors are Aruna Ankiah, Gangadeen Lynn Biggs, Eunice Champion, Taryn Isaacs, De Vega Kehdinga, George Fomunyam, Nadaraj Govender, Angela James, Simon Bheki Khoza, Noma China Kubashe, Nehemiah Latolla, Jacqui L. ck Dumisa, Celumusa Mabuza, Simeon Maile, Suriamurthee Maistry, Makhulu A.
