Approximate Number System and Mathematics Jingguang Li, Xinlin Zhou, Marcus Lindskog, 2019-11-25 Humans process quantity information without the aid of language or symbols to guide a variety of everyday life decisions The cognitive system that supports this intuitive skill is often referred to as the approximate number system ANS It has been argued that the ANS serves as the foundation of the formal symbolic number system mathematics Abundant empirical evidence is supportive of this view acuity of the ANS is positively correlated with symbolic math performance training of the ANS may cause improvements in symbolic math performance and the ANS and symbolic number processing may share a common neural underpinning However recently several theories and empirical data cast doubt on the role of the ANS in symbolic math processing This e book aims to advance our understanding of the underlying mechanisms of the overlap between the ANS and mathematics

Beyond McDonaldization Dennis Hayes, 2017-04-19 Beyond McDonaldization provides new concepts of higher education for the twenty first century in a unique manner challenging much that is written in mainstream texts This book undertakes a reassessment of the growth of McDonaldization in higher education by exploring how the application of Ritzer's four features efficiency predictability calculability and control has become commonplace This wide ranging text discusses arguments surrounding the industrialisation of higher education with case studies and contributions from a wide range of international authors Written in an accessible style Beyond McDonaldization examines questions such as Can we regain academic freedom whilst challenging the McDonaldization of thought and ideas Is a McDonaldization of every aspect of academic life inevitable Will the new focus on student experience damage young people Why is a McDonaldized education living on borrowed time Is it possible to recreate the university of the past or must we start anew Does this industrialisation meet the educational needs of developing economies This book brings international discussions on the changing world of higher education and the theory of McDonaldization together seeking to provide a positive future vision of higher education Analysing and situating the discussion of higher education within a wider social political and cultural context this ground breaking text will have a popular appeal with students academics and educationalists

Changing the Course of Failure Sandra Stotsky,2018-05-18 The basic purpose of this book is to help policy makers at all levels of government understand that 1 widespread adolescent underachievement is not susceptible to solution by educational interventions no matter how much money is allocated to public education and 2 there are unidentified educational and civic costs to focusing on low achievement and to expecting public institutions of education for K 12 and college to solve a growing social problem Many policy makers seem to think that teachers schools are the primary cause of low achievement Educational institutions still cannot solve a non education caused problem and haven t done so for over fifty years despite all the public and private money that has been allocated The book concludes with suggested policies for addressing the damage to public education from gap closing standards and with suggested areas for policy making in order to change the current course of failure for many low achieving students
