

SUPERSITE ACTIVITIES

- Depending on the type of question (question format) on the Supersite, you will have 1-2 attempts for each activity. Activities made up of questions with only two possible answers (e.g. True/False), allow a maximum of one attempt, to prevent guessing. Items requiring an open-ended response allow a maximum of two attempts.
- Remember, any Supersite assignment completed after the deadline receives the grade of zero.
- You should use these assignments as a method of taking your temperature—to assess how well you are learning the material. If you are not getting things right, and it all seems muddy to you, you need to go back and review and perhaps elicit some help. Many times, a quick e-mail to your instructor with a specific question about the grammar can help you resolve a dilemma quickly and painlessly. Avoid e-mails like . . . "I just don't get pronouns." Send an example of what you don't understand and clarify your thought processes. Your instructor will be able to see where and why you've gone astray. Make sure that you've done the work BEFORE you send an e-mail asking for clarification. *Remember to include the level and section of your class on the subject line (SPAN 1411.81001). You only have one Spanish instructor, but your instructor has hundreds of students and may need information about you and your class in order to answer your electronic questions quickly and reliably.

HOW CAN I VERIFY THAT I HAVE COMPLETED ALL OF THE ACTIVITIES

Before a lesson deadline expires you will want to ensure that you have completed all of the assigned activities, including the assessments. When you log into the course on the Supersite, you'll see the list of assigned activities for each lesson and a 'Start' button. To begin, just click on that button.
