John Fleming Explicit Instruction Model:

Improving Schools Using Systems Leadership Ian Macdonald, Clive Dixon, Tony Tiplady, 2019-06-26 It is easy to underestimate the impact that school organisation has on the behaviour effectiveness engagement and creativity of the teachers staff and students who work within it It also has a marked effect on the well being of staff members and how families and the community relate to the school Attempts to improve school organisation are often short term initiatives that only cover only one or two aspects of what it takes to organise a school effectively Improving Schools Using Systems Leadership in contrast provides those involved in the design and delivery of educational services with a coherent and easy to follow framework to help run an effective organisation Based on theory real data on education improvements at school and regional level and case studies this book demonstrates how Systems Leadership can be used to improve school organisation It integrates models of leadership teamwork capability structure and systems to help make them more effective in improving the learning outcomes of students and also sustain this improvement over time This book explains how Systems Leadership can and has been applied in schools to bring clarity to the purpose structure and systems within a school and have a major impact on its success As such it is an essential text for school leaders and managers looking for practical tools to help improve the working lives of the people within their organisation and hence their effectiveness

School Reform in an Era of Standardization Ian Hardy, 2020-12-29 School Reform in an Era of Standardization explores how teachers and school based administrators navigate the processes of accountability and standardization in schooling systems and settings It provides clear insights into how the work and learning of teachers and students in schools have been dramatically reconstituted by increased pressures of external political scrutiny and accountability The book reveals in detail the nature and effects of standardization processes upon schools and schooling systems Specifically it shows how curriculum development teaching and assessment practices have all been recalibrated under conditions of increased external scrutiny of teacher and student work and learning and how such processes are manifest in curriculum dominated by attention to literacy and numeracy more scripted pedagogies and standardized testing However the research not only elaborates the detrimental effects of such processes but also how those responsible for educating in schools teachers heads of curriculum deputy principals and principals have responded proactively by interpreting interrogating and challenging these conditions In this way it provides resources for hope evidence of what are described as more authentic accountabilities and at the same time it provides a clear portrait of the difficulty of fostering substantive curriculum teaching and assessment reform during an era of increasingly reductive accountability processes It will be an invaluable resource for understanding and enhancing practices in schools and school systems in the decades to come and for giving hope to educators in the ongoing work of rebuilding trust in public education
