Guide Literature Teaching:

Teaching English Literature 16-19 Carol Atherton, Andrew Green, Gary Snapper, 2013-07-18 Teaching English Literature 16-19 is an essential new resource that is suitable for use both as an introductory guide for those new to teaching literature and also as an aid to reflection and renewal for more experienced teachers. Using the central philosophy that students will learn best when actively engaged in discussion and encouraged to apply what they have learnt independently, this highly practical new text contains discussion of the principles behind the teaching of literature at this level, guidelines on course planning, pedagogy, content and subject knowledge, advice on teaching literature taking into account a range of broader contexts such as literary criticism, literary theory, performance, publishing, creative writing and journalism, examples of practical activities, worksheets and suggestions for texts, guides to available resources. Aimed at English teachers, teacher trainees, teacher trainers and advisors, this resource is packed full of new and workable ideas for teaching all English literature courses.

Literature and Language Teaching Gillian Lazar, 1993-01-28 Literature and Language Teaching is for teachers and trainers who want to incorporate literature into the language classroom. The book can be used as a resource by trainers working with groups of teachers, by teacher development groups or by teachers working on their own. Literature and Language Teaching contains tasks and activities which encourage reflection on some of the issues and debates involved in using literature in the language classroom, explore different approaches to using literature with teenage and adult learners at all levels, suggest criteria for selecting and evaluating materials for classroom use, identify some of the distinctive features of novels, short stories, poems and plays so that these can be successfully exploited in the classroom, provide a wide range of practical ideas and activities for developing materials which teachers can use with their own learners, encourage the observation and assessment of lessons using literacy texts, draw on literary texts in English by a variety of authors from all over the world. Each section of the book is designed to be self-contained so that users of the book can select what is most relevant to their purpose. A key to the tasks and activities is provided as well as guidelines for teacher trainers which suggest different ways of using the activities in the book as part of a training programme.

How to Teach World Literature Elizabeth McCallum Marlow, 2018-05-17 How does one keep classic books alive for young people today and teach them that literature is instructional and delightful? How does the teacher foster a classroom environment that encourages student participation and promotes enjoyment so that teenagers learn to appreciate literary study? More specifically, how can literature teachers cover centuries of world literature with students who don't appreciate why they should read material written long ago about people and issues that appear to be irrelevant to life today in a language that seems esoteric? The author of this series of high school teaching guides addresses these issues. How to Teach World Literature: A Practical Teaching Guide provides a detailed resource for teachers or anyone interested in an in-depth study of the subject.
