Job Vacancies For 2016 In Defence Intelligence:

Subordinating Intelligence David P. Oakley,2019-03-15 In the late eighties and early nineties driven by the post Cold War environment and lessons learned during military operations United States policy makers made intelligence support to the military the Intelligence Community s top priority In response to this demand the CIA and DoD instituted policy and organizational changes that altered their relationship with one another While debates over the future of the Intelligence Community were occurring on Capitol Hill the CIA and DoD were expanding their relationship in peacekeeping and nation building operations in Somalia and the Balkans By the late 1990s some policy makers and national security professionals became concerned that intelligence support to military operations had gone too far In Subordinating Intelligence The DoD CIA Post Cold War Relationship David P Oakley reveals that despite these concerns no major changes to national intelligence or its priorities were implemented These concerns were forgotten after 9 11 as the United States fought two wars and policy makers increasingly focused on tactical and operational actions As policy makers became fixated with terrorism and the United States fought in Iraq and Afghanistan the CIA directed a significant amount of its resources toward global counterterrorism efforts and in support of military operations Congressional Record United States.
