Military Review, 2002 The Army Communicator, 1976 Armor, 2004 Analysis of Emerging Digital and Back-up Training Requirements Laura A. Ford, Roy C. Campbell, Robert Cobb, 1998 Digitization is the future of the Army. However, along with digitization come training and personnel implications. This report discusses training issues associated with digitization, specifically those that address a need to train and maintain backup along with digital skills. Backup skills are the individual and collective skills required when digital systems are degraded or unavailable. The study focused on the digital M1A2 Abrams Main Battle training program as an exemplar. Lessons learned about digital and backup training requirements should be applied in the M2A3 training program. The study investigated issues that are applicable to a wide range of digital applications and training conditions. The study examined individual and collective tasks that support tank operations and found both digital and backup tasks to be poorly defined, particularly in collective performance. A method for analysis is described, and analytic results are reported. The study also outlines the current state of training armor and infantry soldiers and the impact that increased digitization may have on training pipelines. The study employed a series of expert groups to define issues and formulate recommendations. These groups included users, developers, researchers, and trainers with a wide spectrum of experience and viewpoints. Expert group results are reported and include 15 primary issues and accompanying recommendations. Measuring Digital Battle Staff Proficiency in Current and Future Forces, 2004

American Military History: The United States Army in a global era, 1917-2008 Center of Military History, 2009 From the Publisher: This latest edition of an official U.S. Government military history classic provides an authoritative historical survey of the organization and accomplishments of the United States Army. This scholarly yet readable book is designed to inculcate an awareness of our nation's military past and to demonstrate that the study of military history is an essential ingredient in leadership development. It is also an essential addition to any personal military history library. Report of the Field

Historical, political, and social perspectives are presented, as well as case studies that focus on training and development of personnel. Article titles include: Trust in the Military Profession; The Role of Strategic Leaders for the Future Army Profession; and Professional Leadership and Diversity in the Army. The Army After Next Thomas K. Adams, 2008 Thomas K. Adams critiques the US government's army reform programme. He provides timely coverage of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan and the general's revolt against Rumsfeld. The author has 34 years military experience to back up his arguments. Integration of Training Development Among Schools and Distributed Training Environments

Robert A. Clagg,1999 This study examines distributed training development activities among U S Army Training and Doctrine Command TRADOC proponent schools and other distributed training environments such as that associated with Program Managers The approach was a critical investigation and examination of where the Army is and where it needs to be heading as it tackles the issue of distributed training development in support of newly fielded digital information systems The study revealed that there are major issues and needs associated with the development and distribution of training at sites other than TRADOC proponent schools An important component of the study is the identification analysis and comparison of courses of action for addressing the current issues and needs associated with distributed training development Courses of action are thoroughly analyzed and compared and both near and long term implementation considerations are identified Report documentation page Les armées d'Europe face aux défis capacitaires et technologiques Alain de Nève,Raphaël Mathieu,2005
