Genes, Brains, and Human Potential Ken Richardson, 2017-03-21 For countless generations people have been told that their potential as humans is limited and fundamentally unequal The social order they have been assured is arranged by powers beyond their control More recently the appeal has been to biology specifically the genes brain sciences the concept of intelligence and powerful new technologies Reinforced through the authority of science and a growing belief in bio determinism the ordering of the many for the benefit of a few has become more entrenched Yet scientists are now waking up to the influence of ideology on research and its interpretation In Genes Brains and Human Potential Ken Richardson illustrates how the ideology of human intelligence has infiltrated genetics brain sciences and psychology flourishing in the vagueness of basic concepts a shallow nature versus nurture debate and the overhyped claims of reductionists He shows how ideology more than pure science has come to dominate our institutions especially education encouraging fatalism about the development of human intelligence among individuals and societies Genes Brains and Human Potential goes much further building on work being done in molecular biology epigenetics dynamical systems evolution theory and complexity theory it maps a fresh understanding of intelligence and the development of human potential Concluding with an upbeat message for human possibilities this synthesis of diverse perspectives will engender new conversations among students researchers and other interested readers

Breaking Point Rebecca Schwartz Greene, 2023-01-03 WINNER SOCIETY FOR MILITARY HISTORY DISTINGUISHED BOOK AWARDS FIRST BOOK This book informs the public for the first time about the impact of American psychiatry on soldiers during World War II Breaking Point is the first in depth history of American psychiatry in World War II Drawn from unpublished primary documents oral histories and the author's personal interviews and correspondence over years with key psychiatric and military policymakers it begins with Franklin Roosevelt's endorsement of a universal Selective Service psychiatric examination followed by Army and Navy pre and post induction examinations Ultimately 2.5 million men and women were rejected or discharged from military service on neuropsychiatric grounds Never before or since has the United States engaged in such a program In designing Selective Service Medical Circular No 1 psychiatrist Harry Stack Sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter While many American and European psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of American psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening's validity psychiatric and military leaders persisted in 1942 and 1943 in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else Soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric 4Fs and Blacks and Native Americans among others complained of bias A frustrated General George S Patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in Sicily a sentiment shared by Marshall and Eisenhower though they favored a tamer style Yet psychiatric rejections evacuations and discharges mounted While psychiatrist Roy Grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in Tunisia in early 1943 this was the exception But as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself not predisposition precipitated breakdown leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment But this switch was too little too late and slowed by a year long series of Inspector General investigations even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared Ironically despite and even partly because of psychiatrists wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war postwar America soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers popularity and influence of the profession culminating in the National Mental Health Act 1946 But veterans with PTSD not recognized until 1980 were largely neglected solving CPS and related topics such as dynamic decision making DDM and complex dynamic control CDC represent multifaceted psychological phenomena In abroad sense CPS encompasses learning decision making and acting in complex and dynamic situations Moreover solutions to problems that people face in such situations are often generated in teams or groups This adds another layer of complexity to the situation itself because of the emerging issues that arise from the social dynamics of group interactions This framing of CPS means that it is not a single construct that can be measured by using a particular type of CPS task e g minimal complex system tests which is a view taken by the psychometric community The proposed approach taken here is that because CPS is multifaceted multiple approaches need to be taken to fully capture and understand what it is and how the different cognitive processes associated with it complement each other Thus this Research Topic is aimed at showcasing the latest work in the fields of CPS as well as DDM and CDC that takes a holist approach to investigating and theorizing about these abilities The collection of articles encompasses conceptual approaches as well as experimental and correlational studies involving established or new tools to examine CPS DDM and CDC This work contributes to answering questions about what strategies and what general knowledge can be transferred from one type of complex and dynamic situation to another what learning conditions result in transferable knowledge and skills and how these features can be trained
