Flying in the Face of Criminalization Andreas Mateou, Sofia Mateou,2016-04-15 Two parallel investigations take place after every aviation accident one technical one judicial The former must be conducted with the sole intention of making safety recommendations to prevent the recurrence of similar accidents The judicial investigation however has the intention of identifying those parties that have been at fault and to apportion blameworthiness for criminal and civil liability Consequently this results in a predicament for those parties that have been identified as having played a role in the accident a dilemma between not supplying information aimed at enhancing safety and preventing future accidents and on the other hand supplying such information which may possibly be used against them in subsequent criminal prosecution The situation is compounded by inconsistent approaches between different legal systems aviation professionals may find themselves faced with criminal charges in one country but not in another and they may also be unsure as to whether statements given during the technical investigation could be used against them in a court of law Aviation safety is to a large extent built upon the trust placed by pilots ATCOs and other aviation professionals in the process of accident investigation This book examines the growing trend to criminalize these same people following an accident investigation and considers the implications this has for aviation safety Aerodrome Governance in Asia Sandeepa Bhat B.,2025-09-26 This book disseminates valuable information from both legal and managerial sides related to airport governance in Asia With the expansion of existing airports and construction of new airports legal and managerial aspects have become most significant for different stakeholders Recognizing the continuous rising importance of the sector aviation law and management courses are also being offered across the globe The book caters to the needs of a wide spectrum of readers including scholars researchers and students of law aviation management international relations and related fields policymakers regulators and government officials who are involved in regulating managing and developing aerodromes in Asian countries and professionals in aviation industry including airport operators airlines aviation consultants and legal practitioners Human Factors Guidelines for Air Traffic Management (ATM) Systems ,2000 Manual of Procedures for Establishment and Management of a State's Personnel Licensing System International Civil Aviation Organization,2012 Human Factors Digest ,1989 Technical Regulations World Meteorological Organization,2004 Catalogue of ICAO Publications and Audio Visual Training Aids International Civil Aviation Organization,2006 Manual of aircraft accident and incident investigation International Civil Aviation Organization,2003 Training Guidelines for Aircraft Accident Investigators International Civil Aviation Organization,2003 Manual of Aircraft Accident and Incident Investigation: Organization and planning International Civil Aviation Organization,2000 Human Factors Guidelines for Safety Audits Manual International Civil Aviation Organization,2002 Aeronautical Information Services Manual ,2003 Operation of Aircraft: International operations International Civil Aviation Organization. Council,2007 Security International Civil Aviation Organization. Council,2002 Serious Accidents and Human Factors Masako Miyagi,2005 There is growing concern globally over issues of aviation safety Awareness of previous failures and their causes is one of the most important factors in determining risks and hazards in any new operational systems This requires experience of accidents and failures across a broad spectrum of complex systems Every accident occurs as a result of a chain of errors and if one of the links making up that chain can be broken the accident might be prevented and becomes merely an incident If you collect detailed data from a range of incidents relating to how they occurred and develop a consistent method for analyzing that data you can create a potentially valuable resource to assist in accident prevention Serious Accidents and Human Factors proposes an original and structured approach to accident prevention In an interesting and readable collection of accounts of major accidents drawn mainly from the aviation industry Masako Miyagi investigates incident reports analytically and reveals the critical information hidden therein that could avert a full blown accident or disaster She applies an innovative analytical technique multidimensional analysis of incident reports MAIR using Quantification Method III to validate the results and focus upon individual components identified within the causal chain of events that precede an accident She advocates wider acceptance and use of the Incident Report Analysing System ideally administered by a neutral and independent body to help prevent accidents not only in aviation but in relation to all complex systems such as nuclear power plants Serious Accidents and Human Factors offers aviation industry personnel as well as those involved more generally with safety risk assessment and accident prevention in other industries a comprehensive understanding of the accident causation chain events contributing to that chain and a method for identifying and eliminating causal factors in a pro active way Copublished with Professional Engineering Publishing For orders from Europe and the Middle East please contact Professional Engineering Publishing tel 44 1284 763 277 or fax 44 1284 704 006 Manual of Aeronautical Meteorological Practice ,2011 Operation of Aircraft International Civil Aviation Organization.
