How to Secure a Network with Linux

Securing a network with Linux involves knowing techniques for how to:

- Secure network services.
- Prevent information leakage.
- Test for open ports and perform port scans
- Manage Xinetd security.
- Secure SSH
- Configure local Linux firewalls.

Securing Network Services

What are Network Services

- Network services are sometimes called daemons (a program that runs continuously and exists for the purpose of handling periodic service requests).
    - Listen on network ports for incoming connections
    - Often the focal point of system attacks.

- Constantly running in the background.
- Output recorded in log files.
    - Not connected to a terminal
    - Some use var system log files
    - Some use their own log files
    - Check the config files

- Designed to perform a single task.

How to Secure Network Services

- Use a dedicated user for each service.
    - Take advantage of privilege separation. If an account gets exploited, it can only impact a single service.
    - Do not run services as root

- Ports below 1024 are privileged.
    - Require superuser privileges to open.
    - Use root to open them, then drop privileges.
    - Configuration controlled by each service.
