Researchers recently announced the earth could actually with stand up to 200,000 times the current population. They arrived at this figure by calculating the amount of heat a human body emits, and only at 1.3 million billion would the earth be too hot to be habitable. And though it would feel like being in a can of sardines if that figure were ever reached, the earth is capable of comfortably sustaining a population several times the current 6.5 billion.

In fact, fertility is actually on the decline worldwide. Though population has grown, the rate of growth has fallen sharply. Twenty years ago, the UN projected that population would reach 11.16 billion in 2050, today they say it will reach only 9.37 billion. Moreover, human population will stabilize at about 11.5 billion. While this figure is almost twice the current one, it is hardly claustrophobic.

True, the demands on resources are heavy even now, but this is more due to the manner in which these resources are being used. In fact, figure show that a bigger population dose not amount to greater consumption. Over 20% of the world's people in the highest-income countries account for 86% of total private consumption expenditure expenditure—the poorest 20% a tiny 1.3%. with just 5% of the world's population, the US consumes about 40 % of the world's resources. Would you say the US is overpopulated ?

Concerns on scarcity of food are equally baseless. In fact, global food production has actually kept up with population growth.
