Trade in Services of the WTO Pietro Poretti, 2009-01-01 The General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS extends the multilateral trading system to services Little is said In the GATS about subsidies beyond stipulating that subsidies are subject to the existing provisions including the most favoured nation and national treatment principles and that Members shall enter into negotiations with a view to developing the disciplines necessary to avoid the trade distorting effects of subsidies This timely book provides a comprehensive analysis of services subsidies under the GATS It begins with a description of services and trade in services and of the salient characteristics that make regulation of services subsidies more complex than those associated with agricultural and industrial goods It then analyzes the economic arguments underpinning the need for regulation as well as the need for governments to retain sufficient latitude to implement non trade related policy measures A description of the information available on services subsidies is followed by a classification of services subsidies according to their distortive effects and by a detailed analysis of those elements that may form a definition of services subsidies for the purpose of a future regulatory framework A key section is devoted to the analysis of those existing provisions of the GATS that may exert a certain measure of discipline on services subsidies and to the question of the desirability and technical feasibility of countervailing measures Rules on services subsidies contained in regional trade agreements and the need for special and differential treatment for services subsidies by developing countries are also discussed Finally and prior to the conclusion two sectoral studies deal with the question of subsidies aimed at attracting foreign direct investment and subsidies to the audiovisual sector This work represents the first extensive and comprehensive analysis of the issue of services subsidies in the context of the GATS and includes numerous references to relevant European Union State Aid legislation and jurisprudence Book Jacket SSRI Reprint Series University of Wisconsin--Madison.
