

Glory Road- Answer Key

He takes the job because it's his chance to coach at the college level, despite poor facilities and little funding.

He recruits aggressively across the country, offering opportunity where other schools overlooked players.

b) Defensive discipline and fundamentals

He knows they're talented and wants to win; others push back due to racial prejudice.

They face racism in town, segregation, and homesickness, which tests their resilience.

c) Seven

He insists everyone play tough, team-oriented basketball and discourages cliques.

They endure slurs and hostility on the road, making them angry but also more determined.

They rally together, realizing they must lean on each other for support.

b) Play harder and let the scoreboard speak

Their style becomes fast, aggressive, and team-focused with strong defense.

Unity helps them win consistently and push toward the finals.

He decides winning means putting the best players on the court, regardless of race.

He chooses to start an all-Black lineup in the NCAA finals.

d) Kentucky

The players are nervous but proud—they see it as a chance to prove themselves.

They face foul trouble and physical play, but they adjust through teamwork and composure.

a) 72–65
