

The alarm sensitivity setting may be individually set for each detector using the SDU program.

Alternate alarm sensitivity setting

Alternate alarm sensitivity refers to the secondary threshold (expressed in percent smoke obscuration) at which the smoke detector goes into alarm. The alternate alarm sensitivity setting for smoke detectors can be set to one of the same five sensitivity levels as the primary alarm. When smoke detectors having both ionization and photoelectric elements are used, the sensitivity setting applies to both elements. This feature permits increasing or reducing an individual detector's sensitivity at various times of the day, dependent upon, environmental conditions, occupancy, manufacturing processes, etc. Increased sensitivity is typically used when a facility is unoccupied. Reduced sensitivity is typically used to reduce the occurrence of nuisance alarms when occupancy or environmental conditions may create prealarm conditions. An alternate alarm sensitivity setting for each detector can be set using the SDU program.

Alarm verification

Upon receipt of the initial alarm signal from a verified detector, the EST3 panel issues a detector reset command. After a programmable reset/retard period, if the detector continues to generate an alarm during the fixed confirmation period, the alarm is considered valid and processed by the EST3 control panel. Alarm verification reduces the occurrence of nuisance alarms, as it provides a time frame in which the cause of the alarm can be investigated to determine whether an actual alarm condition exists. The alarm verification period can be increased or decreased through the SDU program, as limited by the listing agencies.

Alternate alarm verification

The alternate alarm verification feature operates the same way the alarm verification feature operates using a second, alternate, programmed reset/retard period.

Prealarm setting

Signature smoke detectors can be configured to enter a prealarm state, which generates a monitor event message. Detectors configured for prealarm have a prealarm pseudo point for which rules can be written.

During configuration, you specify a percentage of the alarm sensitivity setting that will generate a prealarm event.
