Dear Parent/Carer

SRE Lessons

This term's PSHE lessons include some units of SRE (Sex and Relationships Education). Participation in the lessons aims to improve young people's ability to develop healthy relationships, be confident and happy within themselves and their bodies, and make well-informed and safe decisions in the future.

Students will:

- further develop personal resilience as they interpret meaning of physical, emotional and social change, and their own developing sexuality and that of others;
- extend their social knowledge and skills to enable them to make and maintain positive relationships and close friendships, and work collaboratively in teams;
- learn to assess and build understandings of skills to effectively manage risky and challenging situations for themselves and others.

Topics include: respect, health and life, puberty, female and male reproductive systems, sexuality, diversity, relationships, gender/power/stereotypes, negotiation and decision making and places to go for help and support.

The program aims to support and complement the role of the family in educating young people about SRE and for this reason open communication is encouraged at all times.

If you would like more information about the programme, please contact Debbie Carter.
